AUTOBIOGRAPHY

Family background—democratic education

I grew up in a democratic education environment. Therefore, my parents focus on my attitude and personality more than my academic performance. That's why I'm always optimistic even faced tough difficulties and setbacks.

My parents have run a bento shop business for almost 30 years. In my spare time, I'll help them do some chores and learn how to communicate, interact and work effectively with each customer.

Stage of study—my ways of learning new things

As the saying goes "Art is long, life is short."

I'm now learning about occupational therapy skills. YES, I want to be a professional occupational therapist. Consequently, I have to try my best to learn more new things.

After class dismissed, I will go through all the stuff that the professor had just taught to boost my memory.

When I am reviewing, I will prepare a marker, pen and a piece of paper to mark the part which is unfamiliar to me and write down pages for a reminder.

Although these ways are time-consuming and tiring, I will continually follow these steps to sharpen my knowledge and become an occupational therapist one day.

Class experiences—tackling things more properly

In high school, I had two class president experiences. One of them was in the last semester of high school. The pressure of SAT and measuring chores did not mess me up. I am still keen on public affairs and also commended by teachers.

During that time, I learned how to coordinate the members of the group and perform their duties efficiently. At the same time, these experiences cultivated my strong sense of responsibility.

Personality & Interests - My traits

Personality：In my growing stage, my parent kept instilling the idea of thinking and judging independently. Thus, these ideas gradually become my traits and ways of handling things.

Before I went to college, I applied for a working holiday in a homestay for one month. During that time, I learned a lot from my boss who always looks on the bright side of life. After that one month, I became more tolerant and optimistic.

Interests：

Interests	Traits that I GET from this interests	Future impact
Learning new things	Curiosity Perseverance	I can clarify difficulties and male a progress quickly without fearness.
Running Swimming	Determination	I can talk with a person and help them get to know problems.
Making friends	Friendly Tolerance	Embrace others' shortcomings and find out their advantage singing	optimistic	I always sing a song when my friends are sad.

Application motivation

In my freshmen year of ISU, I gradually find out there are still so many things to find out in the world. As a college student, I think not only we should take good care of our school works but experience this world to the fullest.

Because I am a college student and studying occupational therapy, I Think I have that responsibility to enhance my global issue awareness. There is an additive meaning of the word "CULTURE" in occupational therapy which is "Getting to know a client's cultural background, lifestyle for the better intervention process." Definitely, cultivating this skill is an indispensable part of being a professional therapist.

Since my first day in ISU, I 've already made a lot of foreign friends. When I hang out with them, they always give me some new knowledge or experience. Here's an example, one of my friend who lives in Hong Kong told me a meaningful sentence "Success is not final, failure is not fatal. It is the courage to continue that count." when I confronted setbacks or challenges.

Mahidol Medical University is ranked No.1 college in Thailand and it has years of history. I 've browsed its website and I found their motto"Attānaṁ upamaṁ kare อตฺตานํ อุปมํ กเร" In the Pali language which means "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you." This theme pervades all aspect of Mahidol Medical University. That's why they feature medical facilities and academic research.

The school president wrote a sentence on their official website "Mahidol University had continued to progress in all aspects to stay relevant and conform to the rapidly changing world and society." That is the reason for me to apply this 'Sawasdee Thailand Summer Program.'

Joining in this program, I will broaden my horizon and have more chances to interact with others from different countries.

Moreover, I am super into Thai culture. Thai local street food, grandiose temples, and their movie industry are internationally famous. This summer program offers culture and food tourism which will fulfill my desire to know this country.

"Study is like sailing in a river; you move either forward or backward."

If I am honored to successfully apply to this summer program, I will do my best to learn and study in the boundless sea of knowledge.

Last but not least, I hope that I can efficiently use those ideas and knowledge which learned from this program in the future. Also, I will still struggle to become an occupational therapist and contribute to those who need the service.

LISTENING

Your scaled score is between 400 and 495. Test takers who score around 400 typically have the following strengths:

- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of short spoken texts and understand the literal meaning, even when conversational responses are indirect or not easy to predict.
- They can infer the central idea, purpose, and basic context of extended spoken texts across a broad range of vocabulary. They can do this even when the information is not supported by repetition or paraphrase and when it is expressed in complex sentences or long texts.
- They can understand details in short spoken exchanges, even when negative constructions are present, when the language is syntactically complex, or when difficult vocabulary is used.
- They can understand details in extended spoken texts, even when it is necessary to make inferences based on information in texts, when information is not supported by repetition. They can understand details when the information is paraphrased or when negative constructions are present.

To see weaknesses typical of test takers who score around 400, see the *Proficiency Description Table.

READING

Your scaled score is between 360 and 450. Test takers who score around 360 typically have the following strengths:

- They can infer the central idea and purpose of a written text, and they can make inferences about details.
- They can read for meaning. They can understand factual information, even when it is paraphrased.
- They can connect information across a small area within a text, even when the vocabulary and grammar of the text are difficult.
- They can understand medium-level vocabulary. They can sometimes understand difficult vocabulary in context, unusual meanings of common words, and idiomatic usage.
- They can understand rule-based grammatical structures. They can also understand difficult, complex, and uncommon grammatical constructions.

To see weaknesses typical of test takers who score around 360, see the *Proficiency Description Table.

If your performance is closer to 450, you should review the descriptors for test takers who score around 450.
